Cities Fight East Bay Water Co. on Stand-by Charge

HEARING FOR INCREASE IN WATER RATES IS COMPLETE

The hearing on the application of the East Bay Water Company for a revision, adjustment, and an increase in water rates was completed before Commissioner Stanley Benedict in San Francisco yesterday.

Further information to be submitted will be presented in briefs prepared by attorneys. Just before the adjournment, attorneys for the water company and the cities agreed to the Western Pacific filing a protest against the proposed increase. The railroad obtains water from the plant of the Union Water Company, which has been purchased by the East Bay Water Company.

M. B. Ready, engineer for the commission, will inspect, at the invitation of the water company, records concerning retirements, a point on which commissioners wish to obtain more data.

R. W. Hawley, engineer for the cities, was on the witness stand. He discussed water loss by the company, which he claims has a loss of 32 per cent, and said the cost of filtration was too high. C. H. Loveland, engineer for the company, said the loss of water was 28.9 per cent, and that most of this was due to meter slippage, in which the consumer is the one to benefit.

Attorneys representing the East Bay cities presented their views in opposition to the present so-called "stand-by charge" paid by the individual cities.

Frank Cornish, representing Berkeley, declared his city was financially embarrassed and requested that the charge be wiped out.

J. A. Bruner, city attorney of San Leandro, declared that he did not know how San Leandro was to meet expenses.

D. J. Hall, city attorney of Richmond, also expressed opposition, saying he could not understand a reason for the charge.

Commissioner Benedict and the attorneys discussed the point as to whether it would be transferred to the consumer.

"I consider the stand-by charge fair," said Benedict, "as the water company is prepared to give emergency service. I think it is a measure analogous to fire or life insurance."

In the hearing the water company asked for an increase in rates of less than 10 per cent to take care of a proposed improvement program, which provides for the expenditure of an amount in excess of $2,000,000 in the East Bay district.

be expected to take part in this program. The three banks of Richmond readily responded to the suggestion, and henceforth the city will receive the recognition in state banking circles that is her right.

Also, each month the record of the city's building activities will be filed with the development association.

Swindler Pleads Guilty and is Sent to San Quentin

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 14.—Pleading guilty to the charge that he embezzled $550 of the funds entrusted to him by Mrs. Florence Gill toward the organization of the proposed First National Bank of Quincy Mont Bera, alleged bank swindler, was today sentenced in the Superior Court here to a term of from ten years in San Quentin.

Thus was written another chapter in one of the most spectacular financial careers in the history of California. The wheels of the law sped quickly in the case of the former president of the Sierra Valley Bank at Layton and the Indian Valley Bank at Greenville, and one of the participants in the Costa Rica revolution who recently fled to Texas after he is alleged to have swindled California banks out of approximately $100,000.

POCAHONTAS WILL PAY VISIT TO PINOLE LODGE

Order of Pocahontas will go to Pinole in a body on Wednesday evening to raise up the chiefs of Pinole Lodge. All members are asked to be at the hall in time to leave promptly at 7:30 p. m.

INDUSTRIAL COMMISSION IS TO HAVE LUNCHEON WED

The Richmond Industrial Commission will hold another of its development meetings next Wednesday, at Martin's Grill, and everybody who wishes to join a discussion of means to make Richmond grow during 1922, is invited. The meeting is open to the public. It will be a two o'clock luncheon gathering.

The mercantile floor has proved too small to accommodate the meetings that are being held by the organization and to prevent uncomfortable crowding, the Industrial Commission will hold Wednesday's session on the main floor. There will be plenty of room for everybody to enjoy the luncheon, the price of which is fifty cents, and also plenty of room to advance their views, at they wish, and expression of opinions is asked also.

The year is opening with every showing of prosperity and increased development for Richmond. Consequently there are plenty of themes for a development session. City officials will be in attendance.

Commencing Monday, Richmond's bank clearings will be flashed to the California Development Association and published throughout California. The plan is being fostered by the direction of Mrs. E. M. Van Frank, from her desk in the Ferry building. Mrs. Van Frank wrote the Richmond Chamber of Commerce that thirty of California's largest cities would

Rev. Paul Little Will Deliver Lecture-Sermons

January 15, "Who Are You?"
January 22, "What Are You Doing?"
January 29, "Where Are You Going?"

For the year 1922, Dr. Little outlined a laborious program for himself and his church, and already some of these items have been accomplished. Sunday mornings, he will continue with his series on the "Gold Nuggets From an Old Mine."

CHILDREN ENJOY PROGRAM

Children of the Machinists' Union, Local 324, had a most enjoyable party at Richmond Clubhouse last week, and a splendid program was given by the children and members. There was a generous distribution of goodies and toys to the children and the grownup section of the club enjoyed doughnuts and coffee.

Past Chief Gertrude Smith was presented with a beautiful past chief's jewel and a certificate by Mrs. Eliza Hill. One was also the recipient of a handsome silver fruit filler from the officers of the Temple, the presentation of the latter being made by Mrs. Bertha Bagnall.

Mrs. Anna Boyer was presented with a framed picture as a token of appreciation for her successful chairmanship of the bazaar committee.

A beautiful hand painted plate was presented to Mrs. Eliza Hill in appreciation of her work as treasurer of the sewing club.

Maudie Gries, retiring musician, received a hand painted plate from the Temple.

During the evening a handsome bouquet of red robes was presented to Miss Ione Reed as a gift from her parents.

At the close of the ceremonial the members of the Temple descended to the banquet hall, where an elaborate chicken supper was served by a committee of ladies under the chairmanship of Mrs. Belle Richards. Her assistants were: Mesdames Barbara Opman, Anna Boyer, Sue Moore, Hazel Holloway, Hettie Goldworthy, Mollie Van Skike and Katherine Hillman. Richmond Couple Wedded at Oakland

John A. Craig and Mrs. Della Wadsworth were married at 6 o'clock this morning in St. Patrick's church, Oakland, and left shortly afterwards for a wedding tour through Southern California. Miss M. Fleherly of Oakland acted as bridesmaid and Christy Carr of Richmond as best man.

The bridegroom has been an employee of the Standard Oil Company for the past thirteen years and has many friends in this city. He is an active member of the Y. M. C. A.

Upon their return from their honeymoon, the happy couple will take up their residence in a new home that the bridegroom has just purchased at Sixteenth street and Clinton avenue.

WIDOW IS SUED BY 2 BROTHERS FOR INSURANCE POLICY $2000

Suit to establish their right to insurance on the life of their brother, H. L. Sharrer, who died November 6, last, was filed in Superior Court yesterday by David and George A. Sharrer of Richmond, against the Bankers Life Insurance Association and Delta Sharrer, widow of H. L. Sharrer. The insurance totals $2000.

The brothers asked that the court order the money deposited in a bank until their rights are decided.

The complaint alleges that H. L. Sharrer after making his wife beneficiary ordered a change in his policy making the brothers the beneficiaries.

Certain regulations of the company it is held, could not be complied with because the policy was held by the widow. T. H. DeLap is attorney for plaintiffs.

Rail and Water Big Factors To Build

The wisdom of Richmond's efforts to provide level industrial sites where rail and water actually meet, is well demonstrated by the remarks of J. M. Kepner, the new president of the Downtown Association of San Francisco in his first address to that organization. Kepner urged the necessity of cities supplying such sites if they are to get the enterprises that are coming. The following from the San Francisco Examiner in regard to Kepner's address will be of interest to those who are working to make Richmond grow and instructive to those who should be working toward that end:

"One of the big problems confronting San Francisco is how to furnish leaders of industry with land and facilities to carry on work in competition with other localities," declared J. M. Kepner, newly-elected president of the Downtown Association, in his initial address to the club yesterday at the St. Francis Hotel. He said:

"When we get the Hetch Hetchy water, which is a much needed supply for new, as well as old industries, San Francisco still will be hampered, unless cheap industrial sites can be found.

"I am in favor of the plan suggested by the Board of Supervisors, whereby sites can be furnished where rail and water can be brought together."

Mrs. Alfred Hickok Tendered Surprise

Ladies of the Auxiliary to the Firemen's Relief Fund tendered a surprise party to Mrs. Alfred Hickok, past president of the Auxiliary, at her home, 2518 Wall street, one day last week, and presented her with a handsome cut glass spoon tray. Refreshments were served to the assembled guests by the hostess.

Pal Implicates Preacher in Burglary

Rex Hascall, former minister of Oregon, who is now held in the county jail at San Jose on a burglary charge, was connected with the burglarizing of the home of Ed Davidson of Richmond, on October 28, according to Chief of Police Wood.

Following the Richmond burglary Hevey Skinner, alias Victor Dunlap, was arrested in San Jose and returned here for trial. He was given his preliminary hearing in Richmond and held to the Superior Court under $2000 bail.

Following his arrest, it is said he implicated Ray Hascall in the Richmond case, declaring that Hascall went into the house while he stood outside on guard.

Hascall is now being held in San Jose and is attracting wide attention by stories of his past life. He was formerly a Baptist minister in an Oregon city.

LUDWIG HOME IS ENTERED BY BURGLARS LAST EVENING

Early last evening and before 8:30 the residence of O. R. Ludwig at Ninth and Barrett avenue was entered by thieves and robbed.

Entrance was effected by jimmeying open the front door.

When Mr. Ludwig returned home he noticed the house in disorder and after checking up, found that two overcoats and two suits of clothes, two children's tanks, and a hand satchel were missing.

It is believed by the police that the thieves were scared away before they had completed their work, as none of the silverware and jewelry was missing.

SUNDAY MORNING CHATS

A lady who with her husband keeps a local store told us last evening that a woman of the night life, accompanied by a sailor from Mare Island, had come into the store and acted very rough, using profane and indecent language, and that she had been much provoked by it. We told her that she could not afford to talk back at such a person, as it was beneath her dignity and position, but that instead of getting angry she should have pity and compassion for the poor degraded thing, born, no doubt, with but little brains, and whose life, present and in future must be little short of a hell upon earth. We pity and have sorrow and compassion for all Mary Magdalens, for the dark side of life is theirs. There is no use arguing with them, and little use to try to reform them, for they are mental perverts and intellectually deficient in the first place, which accounts for their being what they are, in a large majority of cases. The quicker they die and get out of the world the better it is for both themselves and the world. All we as people can do is to teach our boys and girls the horror and degradation of such an existence. Only education and right bringing up can eradicate it to any extent. Take one of those poor miserable creatures and try to reform her, and do what you may, in time, as a rule, she lapses right back into degradation, because she lacks brains, lacks stamina, strength of will and character. One time in our home town in Colorado a lot of church ladies picked up a fallen angel of that brand and sought to lead her away from sin and along the paths of righteousness and rectitude. She was known as "Flossie," and was bright and very pretty, and not over eighteen years of age. The church ladies took her into their homes and made much of her, and all went well for a while. Finally "Flossie" joined the church, and later on she made a written "confession," telling the story of her life, and, incidentally, implicating a number of more or less prominent men of the town in her downfall. It so happened that, according to her "confession," several of the wicked husbands of the good church ladies were mentioned in unfavorable light, and then the very old Nick sure was to pay in that little mountain city. It was decided to send "Flossie" out to a school at Denver, and so clothes were made and packed up for her, a ticket bought and a Bible and other good things furnished her, and she started off amid smiles and tears. She got as far as Salina and there hooked up with a traveling salesman and disappeared—and that was the last ever heard of Flossie. About that time we announced in our local paper that we had secured a copy of Flossie's "confession," and as a good moral lesson to the community would publish it in the paper. Oh, My! Oh-o-o! Men came in from all directions, some with money to bribe us and some with guns and clubs to intimidate us, and great was the excitement. We never had any intention of publishing it, as far as that was concerned, as it would have accomplished no good, but decided to throw a scare into a few rascals there, and certainly did it. Fifty these poor creatures, and pray for them, but don't waste your time trying to make silk purses out of sow's ears, as it can't be done in one case out of ten thousand. You can't put brains or sense into anybody, but you can help to bring up the rising generation in such a manner that it will know better than to adopt either dishonest or dishonorable methods or immoral lives.

Let us live in the present and bury the past, let it ever be lost to our view; It is better forgotten, its joys did not last, and its sorrows we would not renew.

When you worry and fret on the cares of today, and you chafe under friction, be calm; Stop, rest for a moment, let peace have full sway; Contentment is life's sweetest balm.

In some hour of life when you stand face to face with some terrible trial, be brave; Undaunted you'll look on the wreck of the race That you lost but tried hard to save.

No man in this world ever wronged another Without learning that fire will burn; The boomerang thrown to injure your brother Is almost as sure to return.

When the hand of death touches one you hold dear And eclipses the sun of your life, Then the lessons you've learned will stand in the clear, That have kept you from hatred and strife.

When we meet the dear ones who have gone on ahead "Twill indeed be a joyful thanksgiving— But the roses we strew on the graves of the dead We'd better bestow on the living.

We have been organizing and incorporating a gold mining company recently, and have it now about completed and work on the mines is going on. In this connection we have appeared before the Corporation Commission of California, and submitted all the facts as well, even, as the articles and literature we have written for publication about it, which latter will appear in the local papers in a few days, having been passed by the censors and approved by the Commission as being true and correct. California's Corporation laws and the Commission came into being because of innumerable crooks who robbed the people in numbers of instances, and so many of such cattle did the Commission have to deal with that it became suspicious of most everybody, quite naturally enough, and so has a sort of unwritten law that everybody is not innocent until proven guilty, a civil law holds, but is guilty until they prove themselves innocent. In endeavoring to show the Hon. Commission that we were honest and honorable, and desired to mine mines rather than people, and that we believed in the gospel of the Fatherhood of God and Brotherhood of Man, and not only tried to live up to it but applied it—even in business affairs—we pointed out to them that it was a fact that nothing paid so poorly as dishonesty or trickery; that in fact, nothing but strict, honest dealings ever did pay, more than momentarily, and we gave them as references the whole population of Richmond, because, having lived among them a dozen years the people here certainly know by this time whether we are straight or not. The Commission seemed to be very well satisfied with our references.

What we are trying to get at is that good behavior and honest dealings between man and man is the only thing in this world that does pay. It pays in dollars and cents as well as in Christianity and satisfaction. This is something the nations should set a better example in, for individuals everywhere are better behaved than are nations. There is much idleness and thievery among them, and nations have set the example. You can search hieroglyphics or the campaigns whose records are read in the cuneiform inscriptions on the clay tablets of Babylon and Nineveh, the earliest recorded wars of Hindu or Greek historians, down through the middle ages to this last great war, and you will discover that regardless of the nominal excuse or reason given by those who participated in the wars, the real object has been to plunder somebody, or to possess a land made desirable and attractive by others. Even to this day the human race has not been able to see that it secures better economic conditions and greater wealth for itself by industry and work than it does by dishonesty and plundering. The Germans had made themselves enormously rich and prosperous by industry, honest trade and honorable commerce, but in spite of their full knowledge of this, their leaders had not been able to learn that it would cost them more of this wealth to attempt to plunder their neighbors than they could possibly hope to secure in the way of loot, even though successful in their plundering expeditions. This is the doctrine we have been writing for many years, and in an humble way trying to live up to it. We undertook to elucidate it to the Hon. Corporation Commission of California, and we intend to preach it at you, friend reader, for the rest of our life—and if you embrace it, and try to live up to it, God will certainly bless you in a thousand ways, as He always does when His children do try to do as near right as they know how.

WEEKLY Development SECTION

BIG DREDGER IS HERE TO START ACTIVE WORK CITY HARBOR

The big clam shell dredger of the United Dredging Company has appeared in the water front of Richmond and in a very short time the actual work of the improvement of the harbor of Richmond will be started.

Under the contract awarded by the United States government, the channels are to be deepened and widened and the turning basin excavated to a greater depth.

The first mud that will be taken out will be placed on the land of the Procter and Gamble Company, as that firm has entered into a contract with the dredging company for the filling of twenty-five acres of land.

This is but the first step of the great improvement the company is to make by the erection of a factory that will represent an outlay of between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000.

F. F. Skillman, general superintendent of the corporation's home plant at Ivorydale, contiguous to Cincinnati, spent two weeks in Richmond and about this day making arrangements for the start in work on the site. This work will consist of erecting bulkheads with a clam-shell dredger, which will be done directly by the Procter and Gamble Company, and then filling the site to grade, where it is below that. Silt pumped from the harbor during the new work to start in February will be used to make the fill.

Skillman, by expressing a wish for haste in making the fill on the site, gave the impression that the corporation would probably begin actual construction of its great plant sometime this spring or summer. He asked that the first silt pumped by the dredgers be deposited on the Procter and Gamble site that it might be settled and the site put in a shape for construction work at the earliest possible time. This will be about April or May.

The fact that the Procter and Gamble Company practically insists on employees owning their own homes and finances them for building homes on a plan that makes ownership easy for them is one of the best features about the corporation's location in Richmond. It will assure scores of new homes.

WHAT YOU CAN LEARN IN PAYING A VISIT TO THE MUNICIPAL WHARF

By Hall W. Sanders

Richmond's million dollar municipal wharf would be a credit to a city of one hundred thousand people.

When the new unit which now is rapidly under way is finished, there will be a total floor space of 81,000 square feet.

The new unit adds 45,000 square feet.

And when the harbor project, which is being fostered by Uncle Sam in conjunction with the city is completed, and the proper depth of water made it simple and easy for big freighters to steam in and out is insured, the annual tonnage ought to exceed one hundred and seventy-five thousand tons. It is estimated by a man who has simple faith in the harbor of Richmond that fifteen thousand tons a month will be about the measure of the cargoes in and out.

You folks of Richmond owe it to yourselves and to your city to pay a visit to the municipal wharf.

Stretching their concrete bulk for a distance of twelve hundred and sixty feet, the city docks make an impressive picture. They stand like some giant buttresses of a feudal castle in Scotland; almost defying the elements, wind and water.

There is something about the "feel" of the big docks as the foot touches them that conveys endurance.

New Unit Being Pushed

The new unit is rapidly taking shape.

City Wharf Manager J. H. Misner would not hazard a statement as to when the job will be finished.

The understanding is one representing so much money, and embodying so many hopes and ambitions and one which will serve such diversified interests for so long a time, that dispatch in its building is of secondary importance. It must be strong and competent.

Strength Is Essential

It must be strong enough to withstand the pranks and caprices of the great waves that will break their restless billows against its foundations. It must be able to cope with the great gales and sou'westers that will rage about it.

How many readers of the Record-Herald know that Tacoma, a city of 100,000 population, an ambitious seaport, has not a municipal wharf?

Worth Million in Gold

Yet, Richmond, aged twenty-one years, and having twenty thousand population, owns and operates and profits by a wharf and docks that easily are worth more than a million dollars!

The first unit of the wharf was erected in 1914.

The harbor project had its inception in 1906. For this, $100,000 was appropriated by the city and a like amount by Congress. Recently, $260,000 was made available to carry on the harbor work. This sum is equally borne by the city and the Federal Government.

The work of dredging is scheduled to start not later than February 20.

It is the aim and purpose to have twenty-four feet of water in an area that will be the length of the docks and that will extend 1150 feet into the basin.

City Wharf Manager Misner takes his job seriously. He believes in Richmond's port facilities. He believes that the development of her marine possibilities will do more to put this city to the fore than any other single agency or asset.

Bids Received for Building Ferry Boats

It is understood that the officials of the San Francisco-Richmond Ferry Company have received bids for the construction of two steel ferry boats and that contracts will be awarded in a short time.

The Richmond terminal of the ferry will be at the end of the Inner Harbor northern unit, near Cutting boulevard. That the new ferry line will be a big paying proposition is agreed upon by experts, the traffic increasing tremendously each year. Nearly 50,000 passenger trips was the record of San Francisco bay to June 30, an increase of a million and a half. Auto boats were congested.

MUCH ACTIVITY IS PROMISED FOR 1922

Development of the network of county highways with three paved arteries leading into Richmond continues. Arrangements have been made by the Supervisors to start work on the seven miles of concrete highway down San Pablo Canyon, skirting the reservoir of the East Bay Water Company.

This will make the third concrete highway from the interior of the county running into the Twenty-third street and San Pablo avenue sections of Richmond.

Apartment house and home construction in this part of Richmond are continuing. Industrial increases, including the expansion of the porcelain plants and the Certain-fast Products Corporation's plant, the building of the West Coast plant of the Republic Package Company of Cleveland, and plans of the Big Four Truck Company, to erect a large plant stimulate this development.

The Country Club has completed its beautiful clubhouse on the East Richmond hills, overlooking the bay.

Twenty-third street and San Pablo avenue are getting ready to take their places as leading business arteries.

Wright Bill to Be Explained to Richmond Women

An outline of the contents, powers and effects of the Wright bill will be given by C. W. Gathrop, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League

CITY IS MAKING NOTABLE RECORD OF PROGRESS

Under the caption, "Our City Making Notable Progress Record," this month's issue of the Richmond Advance contains the following interesting article:

Never has there been a city in the West in which a larger number of people have put their faith and made investments than Richmond. There probably will never be another city in the West that will do more for those who have put their faith and their money into it than will Richmond.

During more than four years of almost absolute cessation of progress all over the country, Richmond has made a record of which both the city and all who have made it the place of their investment may be proud. Most cities halted, Richmond has grown in a way that leaves one wondering what forward steps she would have taken in that time had not unavoidable conditions interfered.

Studying Richmond's progress during all this period, one marvels at the wonderful possibilities of a city that can grow as she has through it all, and one gathers a vision of what must be ahead.

We see today in Richmond a fine postoffice building being erected because the old one is outgrown, and ours has because of increased receipts, jumped to a first-class postoffice; also two new additions added to the High School and a Junior High School building to cost $200,000 just before started; a new theater with 2000 seating capacity just being completed; a system of electroliners being installed which will make Richmond one of the best lighted cities; our assessable wealth about $2,000,000 ahead of the year before; large increase in water, phone, electrical and gas installations; new manufacturing plants and many homes and apartments erected, and another big unit of work on the new harbor about to begin.

of Northern California, to the members of Richmond Club, at their meeting tomorrow.

The bill which has been passed by the Legislature and signed by the Governor, gives local and state authorities the same powers as Federal officers in the enforcement of the Volstead act.

Mrs. Clara Wilson, chairman of the civic section of the club will have charge of the program.

Richmond Junior High School, to cost $200,000 and to be under construction within sixty days. It will help give ample facilities for fast growing enrollment.

RECORD CIRCULATION OF BOOKS REAL ESTATE MEN OF STATE WILL GATHER AT OAKLAND

The last month of 1921 was a record making one for the Richmond library. The statistics which have just been completed for December show that over 12,000 books were borrowed from the main library and its two branches at Point 16 volumes, edited by Theodore Thomas Mason's Art of Music, 14 volumes; vocal, piano and violin scores, books on musical appreciation, the instruction and study of music, graphophone and pianola playing, music in the schools, musical biographies, etc. Two musical magazines, The Etude and The Musician, are received regularly, and may be found in the reading room. Back numbers of these two magazines may be borrowed for home use.

Opera Scores May Be Borrowed

In addition to books about the opera, the scores of some of the better known operas have been purchased and are available for home use. They are as follows:

- Bizet—Carmen.
- Donizetti—Lucia di Lammermoor.
- Gounod—Faust.
- Halévy—L'Ebra.
- Loenacavallo—Jagtiacci.
- Marchetti—Ruy Blas.
- Mayerbeer—Il Profeta.
- Rossini—Semiramide.
- Saint-Saens—Samson and Delilah.
- Verdi—Aida.
- Verdi—Il Traciata.
- Verdi—Ilgoletto.
- Woff-Ferrari—Jewels of the Madonna.

S. F. Directory Added to Library Chamber Commerce

A San Francisco city directory has just been added to the city directory library in the offices of the Richmond Chamber of Commerce.

A great many calls recently had been made by people in Richmond for such a directory, and it was secured by the exchange process, one of Richmond's directories having been forwarded to the Chamber of Commerce of the bay city.

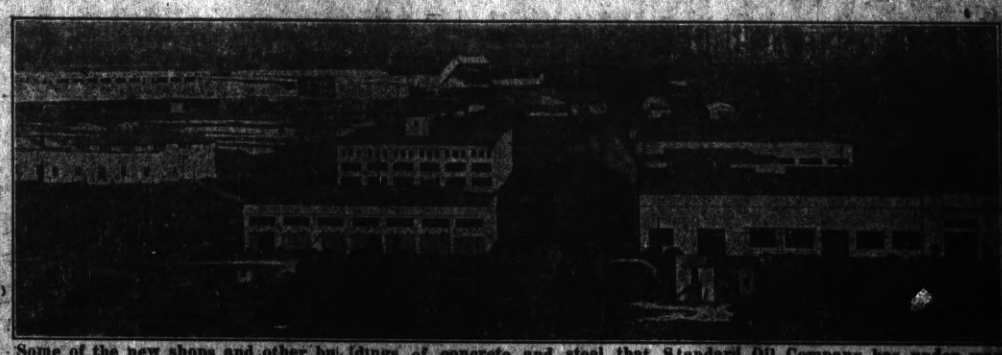

The largest real estate convention ever held west of the Rocky Mountains will open next Thursday, at the Hotel Oakland. Realtors from more than 150 cities and towns of California will convene at Oakland for three days of business sessions and entertainment. Thousands of publicity stories about this convention and the city of Oakland have been sent over the state by the California Real Estate Association, and the response has been statewide. From every section, realtors are rallying to the annual reunion, the seventeenth held under the auspices of the state association, and the second under the presidency of Fred E. Reed, Oakland realtor.

At a largely attended meeting of the San Jose Realty Board Friday night, more than 100 realtors pledged themselves to join the automobile caravan from Santa Clara county to Oakland next Thursday morning. A special train of realtors will leave Los Angeles next Wednesday night for Oakland. More than 150 realtors from Southern California cities will be on this train. The San Joaquin valley realty boards will deliver 100 to 150 delegates to Oakland by train and automobile. The San Francisco delegation, 100 strong, is coming to Oakland by boat at 9 o'clock on Thursday morning. From Napa, Sonoma and Sacramento valleys, another 100 realtors will arrive in Oakland for the annual reunion.

The convention will be addressed on the opening morning by Governor William D. Stephens, President William S. Clayton of the California State Bankers' Association of San Jose; President James F. Kelly of the California Land Title Association of Merced, and at 11 o'clock a reception and welcome will be tendered to President Irving B. Helth of Toledo, representing the National Association of Real Estate Boards, with more than 17,000 realtors affiliated.

Thursday afternoon will be given over to the state real estate department, with addresses by State Real Estate Commissioner Edwin T. Keiser and his chief deputy R. B. Dunlap. One of the important discussions this afternoon will be on exclusive listings, for rent signs and a standard form with Frazier O. Reed of San Jose, third vice president of the state association leading off. Followed by President C. A. Ricks of the Contra Costa real estate board.

Thirty-two towns have entered the home town contest, at the "Get Acquainted" smoker, Thursday evening, a silver cup offered by Fred E. Reed. Among the cities entered are: San Jose, William J. Cross, speaker; Edward F. O'Day, San Francisco; Senator William P. Price, Santa Rosa; Duncan McMurtrie, Berkeley; C. A. Ricks, Martinez; H. W. Weyne, Richmond; James V. O'Hara, Vallejo;

Chris R. Jones, Sacramento; Stanley Kelly, Burlingame-San Mateo; F. O. Wilson, Santa Cruz. Other cities entered include: San Diego, Pasadena, Long Beach, Fresno, Bakersfield, Modesto, Eureka, Santa Barbara, Santa Ana, San Rafael and many others.

In a statement just issued, Frank K. Mott, member of the convention finance committee, and former president of the California Real Estate Association who presided at the state convention in Oakland ten years ago, declared that advice he had received indicated the largest real estate convention ever held in the West.

Meeting is Held of Bluebird Club

At the second meeting of the Bluebird Club, dancing and a social time followed the business session. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. J. J. Gilmore, 425 Nineteenth street. The next meeting will take place at the home of Mrs. R. P. Mayers, 421 Nineteenth street, on Friday evening, January 20.

The Oakland Real Estate Board will hold a big convention meeting next Wednesday at the Hotel Oakland, according to announcement of F. Bruce Maiden, president today.

Mrs. Donnelly to Address Meeting of Civic Center Club

Mrs. Charles Donnelly will address the Civic Center Club at its next meeting, at the home of Mrs. H. W. Bryant, 666 Thirty-ninth street, on Tuesday. The meeting will commence promptly at 2 o'clock.

The subject of Mrs. Donnelly's talk will be the state meeting of the Federation of Women's Clubs which was recently held in Yosemite Valley. Mrs. Frank Walsh of Oroville, past president of the Civic Center Club and a delegate to the Yosemite meeting, has given Mrs. Donnelly much direct information on the big convention.

A literary and musical program has been prepared for the afternoon. Refreshments will also be served before the meeting adjourns.

Why Are You Reading These Ads?

Is it because you have decided to buy a home from someone who has to sell very cheap for cash, or an equity at a great loss, or to buy a centrally located large lot and build one to suit yourself?

Or to buy as an investment one or more lots, located so near the present or future business center that they are sure to soon be needed for business purposes or you may wisely have in mind to pick up a snap and build something on them, that is sure to rent for enough to pay good interest on money invested instead of allowing taxes and loss of interest on money invested? To increase their original cost, as so many have unwisely done in allowing their lots to remain unimproved. Many have been financially unable to build and now realize they must either build or sell even at a great loss.

You may wonder how I secured so many of these centrally located lots. If so, it's easily explained.

Because during the last 10, 15, and 20 years I have spent most of my time visiting interior towns and larger centers selling Richmond lots. I have always confirmed my sales to lots located either ON or within two or three blocks of Macdonald Ave., west of the S. P. R. R. since I discontinued traveling and a few years ago I opened a Real Estate Office here in Richmond. I have got in correspondence with all those to whom I sold living in interior cities and towns and am in daily receipt of letters from some of them authorizing me to sell their lots or house and lots.

Come and see me and I'll show you what I have today. Here are a few, but I have many others:

Five-room well built modern house, lot 40x119 1/2, plenty of yard room, planted in flowers and vegetables; windmill supplying good water; newly-built garage. Located east of Sixth St. north of Macdonald. Price $3250. Cheap for cash, or terms easy.

S. E. corner of 10th and Barrett, 60x110. Very cheap for cash, which the owner must have, but I can secure a loan of one-half the purchase price if you wish. I can sell this corner 20% cheaper than any same size corner near can be bought at, which is a rare chance. East side of 11th St., one-half block from Macdonald ave., 60x113 1/2, very cheap.

12th St. bet. Macdonald and Bissell, 50 or 75x113 1/2. Very cheap.

7th St. near Bissell, 50 or 100x113 1/2 offered at very much less than it cost the owner.

7x110, S. W. corner 17th and Chiles, at very low price—cash or terms.

7x113 1/2 on 13th St., one-half block from Macdonald. All or part very cheap for cash.

STRANGE CASE OF BLOOD POISONING

For about 8 months I was confined to the house and part of the time to my bed with a strange malady. My face and the upper parts of my body were fearfully swollen, my eyes being partially closed. Whenever I went out into the air my face and hands burned as though they were on fire. My skin itched so that I was continually scratching and tearing at myself. Also I had cross eyes from blood poisoning.

I treated with several physicians, who termed my trouble blood poisoning. None seemed to understand the case, and some were even frank enough to say that death alone could give me relief. Six weeks ago I read of the return from China of the renowned FONG WAN HERB SPECIALIST. I immediately sent for him and began to drink the herb tea. I cooked my own herbs at home. Now all the inflammation and swelling are gone. Everything is normal again and I am in perfect condition.

Three Day Treat for Theater Goers at the Macdonald

While today's program at the Macdonald Theater is a strong one, the play to be presented Monday and Tuesday is one that stirs every emotion, and it is but very seldom that such high class pictures as "Conflict" in which Priscilla Dean is the star, is brought to a city no larger than Richmond.

Today's program includes H. B. Warner in "Felix O'Day," Irving Cummings in "Rope's End," the "Sky Ringers," a serial, Mutt and Jeff cartoons, and "Sweet Bye and Bye," a comedy.

Love, hatred, anger and joy all find an outlet in the gripping story "Conflict," which will bring the beautiful Priscilla Dean to the Macdonald Theater on Monday and Tuesday.

The Universal Jewel production is supreme in its detail and technicalities, a great deal of time having been spent on finding desirable locations for the North Woods scenes. That they are true in every detail will be readily observed even by the most expert woodsman.

Dynamiting a log jam was one of the exciting incidents of the expedition. It was faithfully caught by the camera and will give a mighty thrill to playgoers.

NEW, TRUE AND NO LOVE

Trafficked in Marriage

On the charge of splitting fees, trafficking in marriages and conducting an unbecoming business, the Rev. R. F. Western, minister of Elkhart, Md., was dismissed from the church after an ecclesiastical jury had found him guilty on these and other counts. Mr. Western admitted his guilt on the charges and said he saw no reason why he should not split the wedding fees, ranging from $25 to $50, on fifty-fifty basis with the taxi-drivers, who brought him his customers.

Lonely—So Wed

Sam Elder, of New York City, 70 years old, returned from abroad recently with a bride of 23. He stated that he had no intention of marrying, when he sailed from this country, but that in Caribbea he saw the photograph of a girl he liked. The result was he sought her out in her home in Caribbea and a month later he was married. Since he did not tell his grown up children, all of whom are other than his bride his intentions, there was no objection to his marriage on their part.

How Did He Do It?

Wentworth Tucker, who had been employed on a motion picture journal at $40 a week for several years before his death in September, 1919, left an estate of $150,000, according to the accounting of his executors in court. The greater part of this was left in trust for his wife, who has since married again. The estate consisted of railroad and other public utility securities.

Love Finds a Way

When rents were high and suitable quarters could not be found by the would-be newlyweds did the swains and ladies of Lincoln, Neb., postpone their marriages indefinitely? According to stories from that town they did not. They hid them forth and purchased portable garages, which they erected on vacant lots, and married and are housekeeping in the garages.

"My Jo, John!"

An interesting Halloween party was held in Dayville, Conn., when James Thompson celebrated his 102nd birthday and his wife, Mary, celebrated her 96th birthday the same day. They were married seventy years ago in Ireland. They came to America more than half a century ago and have been in good health all their lives. Up to a short time ago Mrs. Thompson did her own housework. Mr. Thompson is still active and says he feels it if he doesn't take his daily walk of a couple of miles.

"Touching" Love

Frank C. Kronengold, of New York City, was summoned to court to answer the annulment suit brought by his wife but failed to appear. Had he done so he would have met at least half a dozen of his former flames, who, according to their claims had been wooed by Kronengold in other days. The plaintiff stated she met her husband at a dance. He told her he was a returned army surgeon and thrilled her with his countless stories of operations performed under fire. Later she visited him at his "office" and found it equipped with an operating table and surgical instruments. There was a gas mask in the room and when she asked where it was, according to her story, Kronengold told her it belonged to him. Seeing that she was interested in it, he presented it to her.

Mrs. Kronengold's father is Max Blinsky, a wealthy glass manufacturer. After the wedding ceremony early this year she declared her husband "touched" her father for $1,500 for office equipment and the expense of moving to better quarters.

Later an anonymous letter caused the bride's father to investigate and the discovery was made, she stated, that her husband had never gone overseas, was not an army surgeon and had been in the habit of obtaining "loans" from some of the ladies whom he wooed, or from their families.

Sues for Marriage License

A Mt. Vernon, New York, widow has asked the Supreme Court at White Plains to issue a writ of mandamus to compel the city clerk of Mt. Vernon to issue a marriage license to her. The city clerk refuses the license on the ground there is insufficient proof that the husband is dead.

LEGION HEAD ON WAY EAST TO MAKE FIGHT

John R. Quinn, state commander of the American Legion, left last night for Indianapolis to attend a conference of all national officers, national committeemen, department commanders and adjutants, on matters of vital interest to the American Legion and the disabled ex-service men.

Prior to his departure Quinn made the following statement:

"I am going back there for the special purpose of making a fight for a principle for which the American Legion stands and that is the rehabilitation of our disabled ex-service men."

"There has been a movement started under the guise of economy to put our ex-service men in soldiers' homes."

"When a man enters a soldiers' home he has to take the pauper's oath, and we don't want to make paupers out of our disabled boys."

"To place a disabled veteran in a national soldiers' poorhouse for life, for the reason that it can be done for $2.20 a day, whereas it may cost twice that amount to hospitalize and restore that citizen to his former usefulness, is mighty poor business. The California delegation goes as a fighting unit against the proposed program in Congress to stultify the present rehabilitation program by placing young, but disabled veterans, in soldiers' homes instead of hospitals."

CALIFORNIA PUTS 31 MILLIONS IN SCHOOL HOUSES

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 13.—California is putting more than $31,000,000 into construction of public school buildings, it was shown in figures compiled by Job Wood, deputy superintendent of public instruction. The figures show that buildings now under construction will cost $18,874,054 and that other work for which bonds have been voted will cost $12,432,400 more.

This expenditure is chiefly due to the failure of school building to keep pace with enrollment since the beginning of the world war, Will C. Wood, superintendent of public instruction stated, pointing out that the growth of enrollment in the elementary schools of California last year was more than 10 per cent and in the high schools more than 20 per cent.

Los Angeles county leads the list with $17,500,000 of building in course of construction or authorized. School construction in other counties is given as follows:

Sacramento, $4,264,000; San Francisco, $3,250,000; San Diego, $286,500; San Joaquin, $223,000; Santa Barbara, $945,000; Santa Clara, $457,000; Tulare, $14,000; Stanislaus, $241,000; Riverside, $70,000; Fresno, $85,000; Kern, $389,000; San Bernardino, $49,000; Sonoma, $418,500.

Will H. Hays has resigned as postmaster general to head the movie trust. He is to get $150,000 per year.

Price of Car Is Not Always Value of Car, Says Strom

"Most people are too prone to think of the price of a car as the value of the car," says J. P. Strom, Dodge Brothers car dealer here.

"The value of any car depends upon its service to its owner. The importance of the local dealer in the maintenance of value as expressed in actual service is becoming more and more recognized.

"The good dealer today is known as one who sells automobile transportation rather than merely automobiles.

"So it frequently happens that cars of the same price represent different values, depending upon the spirit and facilities of the dealer from whom come the local guarantees of performance."

SCHOLES SELL TWO NASH TRUCKS TO PORCELAIN CO.

The Pacific Porcelain Company believes in taking care of its men, and it also believes in securing the best that is possible to get in the line of transportation.

Working in this manner the company has just purchased two 2-ton Nash trucks, equipped with pneumatic tires, and bus bodies, that will carry the employees to the works of the company, near San Pablo.

The trucks have a capacity of forty-eight passengers each, and will make daily trips between Richmond and the pottery plant, north of this city.

Students Given An Auto Course at Nash Plant

First hand study of the automobile factory has come to be part of the curriculum of the modern university. This is true particularly of middle western schools, owing to the proximity of the motor car industry.

One hundred and fifty students of the Milwaukee School of Engineering came to Kenosha on special cars last week and headed by instructors went through the great plant where the Nash Six is built, practically complete from bearings to bodies. A similar group of students, bent upon knowledge of how automobiles are built, came two weeks ago from Purdue University. A delegation from the University of Wisconsin is scheduled to arrive in Kenosha, November 16, while students from the University of Illinois and the University of Iowa also are expected at the Nash plant this fall.

Practically all of these schools have made the inspection of the Nash factory, an annual feature of their regular work. The most of them were represented by delegations last year.

Students who visit the Nash plant, according to advices received by Frank Scholes, local Nash dealer, express interest in the diversity and completeness of the factory equipment; many of the machines are built specifically for Nash requirements. They are interested in the orderly manner in which the work of building the Nash Six progresses. They are shown how the raw material enters the plant at one end, and how each operation proceeds on the "straight line" production method, until the various parts are assembled into the finished car. In the modern Nash foundry, students are shown how tons of molten metal are moulded into rough castings and in the forge shop they see the powerful drop hammers shape the various parts for assembly into the finished products.

As practically every part in a completed automobile is subjected to a different sort of strain or stress, the visiting delegations are shown how formulas worked out by Nash steel experts are put into practice in the heat treating department. There the steel parts are heated and quenched and heated again, each receiving a specific treatment for strain or stress, it will be called upon to withstand in the finished car.

If you want the local news 12 hours ahead of any other paper, you must take the Record-Herald.

Woman Brings Suit Against Whitney to Get $75,000 Damage

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 14.—Philip S. Whitney's reputed caveman tactics exercised over Miss Monte Huckschorn, are to be aired in a suit for $75,000 damages filed here today by Miss Huckschorn against Whitney, from whose duress she claimed to have been "rescued" by the San Francisco police and J. E. Crean, another admirer. This possession of the girl, a Kansas City grass widow, at a San Francisco hotel recently.

Miss Huckschorn named with Whitney in her suit four other men who she says aided the wealthy young rancher in keeping her captive and under surveillance.

Declaring that her health has been impaired and her nervous system shattered by her experience, Miss Huckschorn asks for $50,000 actual damages and $25,000 exemplary damages.

Big Vaudeville Bill at Richmond Theater Today

When Jack Russell and his company open the vaudeville bill at the Richmond T. & D. Theater today, they will start the ball rolling in one of the best and strongest bills that has ever been brought to the local house.

Jack Russell has an enviable reputation as a comedian, having starred in a number of musical comedy companies about the bay region. His comedy is of the clean cut, rapid-fire never miss type that goes over with any audience.

Another strong comedy sketch will be put on by Devoe and Hershey, who have an intricate and interesting study in "Black and Tan." Their repertoire includes a number of new stunts that are somewhat of a novelty.

Two unexcelled musical numbers are on the program, the first of which is Edna Ferguson, the southern songbird, in a number of songs which you will be delighted to hear. Dense and Denelli furnish the other musical stunt and although their act is somewhat of a mystery, their reputation which has followed them on the circuit, indicates that they have something well worth while hearing.

'Everybody Play' Policy of Y.M.C.A. Proves Popular

V. D. Brammer, secretary and athletic instructor of the Y. M. C. A., started a really popular movement when he instituted the "Everybody Play" time in Lincoln school playgrounds each Saturday morning from 10 to 12 o'clock. All boys are invited to attend and join in the supervised games, and each Saturday finds an increasing number of boys pouring in for a good time. The games yesterday morning were thoroughly enjoyed by the boys and they seem to appreciate the supervision and suggestions made by their popular instructor.

The closing number of the program is Little Grace Johnson, the child soubrette, in an act that radiates with originality and personality.

The feature picture of the day stars May McAvoy in "Everything for Sale". The plot is wound around a dislocated idea harbored by some that everything in this world can be purchased for money. The story is presented in such a way by Hector Turnbull that the interest is held until the end.

What Kind of a Battery Would You Sell?

Would it be a cheap battery that the manufacturers wouldn't stand back of?

Or a high-priced battery that made no attempt at economy?

Or a sound, well built battery that sells at a fair price and that gives the most miles of uninterrupted service per dollar, as does the Willard Threaded Rubber Battery?

Experience has proved our wisdom in choosing the Willard Battery with Threaded Rubber Insulation.

Come in—and we'll tell you how it will save money for you.

'Ireland Grateful for America's Aid'

This wall, once a portion of a chemist's shop, is the only wall left standing in Patrick Street, Cork, Ireland, following the conflagration which left the city a mass of ruins. (Insert) James Douglas, treasurer of the Irish White Cross.

JAMES DOUGLAS, treasurer of the Irish White Cross, is in this country with a message from his organization, thanking the American Catholics, Jews and Gentiles, have people for their contributions for the sufferers in Ireland, made to the American Committee for Relief in Ireland of which Justice Morgan J. O'Brien is chairman, and Thomas F. Ryan, E. L. Doherty, John D. Ryan, Nicholas F. Brady, and other prominent Americans have taken an active part. The White Cross has charge of the distribution of the American Committee's funds.

According to a statement made by Mr. Douglas immediately upon his arrival, relief from this country arrived at a time when the Irish people were in most desperate straits. With-out funds from the American Committee, the relief work could not have continued, he said, and widespread desolation of whole sections of Ireland would undoubtedly have followed.

Mr. Douglas is a Quaker and has taken no part in party politics. The work of his organization, begun a year ago at a time of the most bitter war, has been conducted on a non-partisan, non-political basis. Relief has been given to non-combatant women and children on both sides of the Irish struggle. Protestants and Catholics, Jews and Gentiles, have worked side by side in a national effort to relieve suffering, and Mr. Douglas says that the White Cross is providing one of the "most influential forces for promoting the peace that every Irishman desires."

"It is the suffering of the innocents, the women and children, that is the hardest to witness," said Mr. Douglas. "No one can estimate what the effects of constant warfare will be on the future generations of Irish. There have been, however, an unprecedented number of premature births due to fright on the part of mothers, and medical men predict that children born in the days of such desolation will grow up heavily handicapped. A nurse in the south of Ireland told me that the number of premature births in her neighborhood has increased threefold since the fighting started in 1920."

BIG AUTO SHOW TO OPEN TOMORROW EVENING

At 6 o'clock, next Monday night, the doors of the Oakland Civic Auditorium will be thrown open, admitting hosts of East Bay motor car owners and enthusiasts to the biggest and most beautiful automobile show ever held in Oakland.

The great feature of the show, and one that emphasizes the importance of the Pacific coast as an automobile buying center more than anything else, is the fact that there are several new models of cars here for the show. Before they have stood the test of both of the national shows, in New York and Chicago. This is something absolutely new in motor-dom. They have all been through the New York show during the past week, but the Chicago event does not occur until the end of the month. Competition is so keen in the whole United States that no manufacturer having a new model has lost the chance to display it in every show possible. In fact, many have been putting out their 1922 models during the past weeks, striving to be first in the field, and thus get more of the business.
